

The Dark Tower

To kick off our current run of Fan Edits that will take us up to The Fiftieth Anniversary Special and beyond, I thought we'd start with an alternate take on the Twentieth Anniversary Special, The Five Doctors!

And before you ask, yes, you will get to see the Fan Edit of that story before 23.11.2013! This, however, is a little something to be getting on with – it's simply all the Pat Troughton scenes joined together, edited as if it's a Pat T episode instead of a Peter D one. Which is why it's in Black and White.

We open with UNIT HQ and the Brig and Crichton's chinwag and once Pat and The Brig get snatched we see Jon getting taken too, but only because it was too dramatic a jump to go straight to the "Charming spot, Doctor...!" scene. After that, it's Pat and Nick all the way to the tower, and once Pat meets his other selves it's all as per TV and we end with the Brig's "splendid fellows" line.

If you've ever wondered what all Pat Troughton's bits of The Five Doctors would be like edited together then wonder no more! The whole thing runs just over the length of a single Classic Series episode.
